Agronomic Field Day

Join OSU Extension for an Agronomic field day on June 23 at the Northwest Agricultural Research Station in Wood County. Topics include update for tar spot in corn, yield response from different sulfur sources used in soybeans, how flooding effects corn, and an update on soybean diseases.

The field day is scheduled for Thursday, June 23, from 9:00 AM to noon with lunch to follow. The event will take place at the Northwest Agricultural Research Station, 4240 Range Line Road, Custar, OH 43511. There is no cost but please RSVP by June 16 to reserve yourself a free boxed lunch sponsored by the Ohio Corn and Wheat Growers Association. Register to attend this field day at https://osu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_5ywHYi85pidV2eO
